They told me to "Try someplace else."

So I did.
I called HUD.

I found the perfect apartment near a park and public transportation. I asked for a reasonable accommodation for my service dog, but the landlord told me "no pets - try someplace else." So I called HUD and found out it's illegal for a housing provider to prohibit service animals. I filed a complaint, and now my dog and I have a great place to live.

Fair Housing Is Your Right. Use It.

Landlords must make reasonable accommodations for persons with disabilities, such as allowing for service animals or providing an accessible parking space. Report housing discrimination to HUD or your local fair housing center.

Housing discrimination based on any form of religion isn't just unfair - it's against the law. If you feel that you've been denied the sale, rental or financing of a home because of religion, race, color, national origin, sex, familial status or disability, report it to HUD or your local fair housing center.

Here are some possible signs of housing discrimination:

- "I'll show you neighborhoods with mosques."
- "We only take people who speak English clearly."
- "You might be more comfortable living elsewhere."

They told us to "Live someplace else."

We have rights. We called HUD.

We found a three-bedroom apartment we loved in a great neighborhood with good schools and a beautiful park. But the landlord told us to live someplace else that would be better for our family. We filed a complaint with HUD, and now we have a wonderful place to live.

Here are some telltale signs of housing discrimination against families with children:

- Allowing only one child per bedroom
- Charging a higher security deposit for families with kids
- Limiting families with children to the first floor or certain buildings
- Refusing to rent to families with children
